Depew has written his impressions of the jubilee They are as follows The diamond jubilee procession has passed and has left a lasting impresston Its preparation required 60 years and it was over in 60 minutes. Pride power and adoration were its charac-teristics. Pride in the imperial position of Great Britain in the world and exhibition of power which inspires this national examption and ferrid localty in action expression and thought for the queen 'As to the program it was dramatic and historic. The lord major in his robes of office meeting the sovereign at the city gates recalled the early sug-gestions of liberty in the privileges won from kings by free cities and the sheriff in Mediaeval costume escorting the monarch within his balliwick gave a glimpse of the origin and recognition of civil rights by the throne The monorch escented by princes and

This concentration of loyalty from the remotest corn, a of the earth into the add frame mass of particlic enthustasm had an effect upon observers which can be likened to nothing so much as to the North and South electrified by the first gun fired at Fort Sumter or by the Saccott.

brst gun fired at fort summer or by the Seventh regiment marching down Broadway to the defense of the capital "The enthusiasm and shouting were far different from those evoked by the triumphal procession of a Roman con-queror Men and woman cagerly ex-pressed to each other and emphasized to foretween set the colonists matched to foreigners as the colonials marched by that they were not captives chained to the chariot of their conqueror, but willing subjects free citizens of one world-wide empire following their sov-

"White yellow and black soldiers trooped by each accelerating and increasing the tidal wave of enthusiasm and presenting a panorama of power unequalized in listory. The seeds of this power were in the American revolution and it expanded into this wonderful spectacle by the principles of solf-government so triumphantly vindicated by the founders of the United States. The the founders of the United States Th sovereign and the Biffish statesmen

'Among the American spectators

there was no jealousy nor stint of praise and appleuse. We could both glory in the vitelity and willity of the mother country and rajotce mightily. We were not marching in the procession but we were present as the proof equals in all that constitutes a free people and a great pation.

Grand Tribute of a United People.

'I can conjure no tribute like the popular ovation to the queen ever being given lar ovation to the queen even being given to any human being except the reception to Washington by the people on his way from Mount Vernon to New York to assume the position of first president of the United States Respect reverence, love or gratitude are words to time, and there is no intermediate expression by tween them and adoration. This and there is no intermediate expression between them and adoration. This practical ago does not worship. But ica ing out the idea of divinity the greating to the queen and empress is like equivalent. That she was deeply moved. was evident, but she seemed more absorbothy the insignificance of the event than conscious of her past. Therein she in pressed me as proud and happy with this grand tribute of her people but at the same time shared with them the universal joy in the thought of both op pressed and elevated that there has no beer such a 60 years in recorded time that all nations have enjoyed its bene-fits and bles-ings, and none more than

TO THOSE WHO TO INTO THE COUNTRY

A good many North Adams people are preparing to go into the country here abouts for a few days or weeks, and it is tions into which they are going before its annual sumider resort issue. the Medical Record sounds a note of warning to those who are preparing to leave their well ordered homes in the city for a period of rural life. It says that while a holiday is both necessary and pleasant, "a certain amount of discretion should be observed in the choice of a l cality it is undou tedly true that many city people who are very particular as to the sanitary condition of their homes and the purity of their drinking water amply, become surprisingly care less when they go into the country for a season of rest during be warm months. In some instances this as resulted in ep. demins of typhoid fever in cities, the first

August and it will certainly give all of and have also to provide for the disposal them great pleasure to meet him once of their own garbage. These samistary distances are performed on neglected in no. cordance with the att tude of the house sider toward the important duty of same tation The dweller in the country must also drink well water, and unless he is awake to the need of ecuring a supply of pure water, he will be careless as to the location of his well. Many wells of coun-try residents are siturted in proximity to danger spots, and ha le to contamination by seepage. To go to the country for the purpose of avoiding the energating heat the city during the summer months, and to run the risks lacid int to an absence of santary contenience; and pure water is like assuming addit onal risk instead of securing an opportunity to recuperate

Grammar School Graduation.

The graduation exercises of the gran Tuesday evening. There was a large at tendance and good order was maintained throughout. The stage was beautifully trimmed with evergreens and flowers in front and the high settees filled with the girls dressed in white and the boys in black gave a very pleasing aspect. The exercises opened with prayer by Rov. H. B. Foskett. A chorns was sung and the regular program was carried out. These who took part are deserving of the high est praise, for all rendered their declama-tions and essays in a manner that was es-pecially fine. Dr. H. B. Holmes made a a few remarks that were appropriate and excellent advantage of education in our town but said that it is a shame the way the percentage of the pupers.

Dear Sallie;

You remember that I said I would give you some recipes this week for prepar-ing vegetables? Well, my lucky star must have been in the sky, for just as i was wondering how to keep my promise to you I received an invitation to attend to you received an invitation to attend a dinner given by the Commonwealth Vegetarian society. I gladly accepted, for my own pleasure and for your bene-fit, and I propose to to tell you all about it. The table was covered with a heavy damask cloth, and white celery leaves and radishes cut into floral shapes made a unique and pretty occoration. The bill of fare served was as follows: Celery Soup.

ves. Radisi

Boiled Salmon.

Potato Croqueties—Green Feas,
Asparagus on Toast.

Lettuce and Cucumber Salad.

Fruit Harlequin.

Now the celery soup, you know, is good for the nerves, and here is the re-cipe from which it was made.

CELERY SOUP

CELERY SOUP.

Cut down the white of half a dozen heads of celery into they piece and boil it in four pints of white stock, with a quarter of a pound of lean ham and two ounces of butter. Simmer gently for an hour, then drain through a sieve, return the liquid to the soup kettle and stir in a few spoonfuls of cream with great care, and thicken with a tipy bit of flour. Season with sail and pepper, and serve with croutons, which are tiny cubes of toasted bread.

BOILED SALMON. BOILED SALMON.
Sew the fish up neatly in a white mosquiro-net bag, and hol a quarter of an hour to the pound in hot, salted water. Do not forget the salt. Unwap with care and put on a hot dish. Prepare a cupful of drawn butter with chopped parsley and lemon julce in it; pour over the fish, or serve in a gravy tureen. Hard-bolled eggs, cut in slices, were used as a granish

GREUN PEAS.

Shell and lay in cold water for 15 min-utes. Cook from 20 to 25 minutes in boli-ling, salted water. Diam, put into a deep dish with a good piece of butter; pepper and soit to tarte.

ASPARAGUS ON TOAST.
The a bunch of asparagus with a soft string, and cook about 25 minutes uncovered in billing, salted water. Have ready some allows of crustless toast; dip each one in the asparagus liquor; butter well while hot and lay upon a heated dish. Drain the asparagus and arrange the various events of the week.

FRICASSEED TOMATO.

Canned tomatoes of some brands are quite solid. Drain the best and let the seeds and nitice be saved for sour. Slice them, dust flour over them and try a nice brown in butter. Lift with a bread knife to a hot platter. Pour sweet cream in the pan, season it with realt and pepper and boil up. Pour over the tomatoes and serve immediately.

of lemon. Boil up, then add three tablespoonfuls of mashed potato and a pint of rich cream or milk and cream.
Add one-half teaspoonful of sat and one-fourth as much pepper. Serve with croutons. This is a very delicate soup.

DRIED PEACH SAUCE. DRIED PEACH SATCE.
Wash the peaches thoroughly in warm water, cook slowly in just enough water to cover them until nearly done; remove them from the fite, skim them into a pan of cold water, then also of the skins, shi return the peaches to the water in which they were boiling. Add sugar, and cook slowly until done. Serve cold.

GOOD PIÈ CRUST.

One pound of flour, well sifted, half a pound of hutter and half a pound of lard, beat the butter and lard through the flour and mix with sufficient lee water to roll easily. Avoid kneading it, and use only the tips of the fingers in mixing it. A little extra flour will be required for the board and rolling pin.

It has been the aim to bring the king as well as people under the law Out of that has unconsciously sprung the present government. A king or queen in England can do no wrong They can put their hands directly on nothing, they role through the ministry.

Dr Bascom contrasted this governmen with the French who have had twelve constitutions, more or less hostile and the people have slid into them with no satisfaction. This can not be so in England where stands king or glions of the royal families of Europe She stands pre eminent in home life and has been the kind friend of the poor The Glee club sang "Rule Britania" Colonel John Bracewell

Colonel John Bracewell then made a short talk. He is an American but he must never forget that he was born in England. In social things the American England. In social things the Americans and English are very near together Once I was epecking for America at home and an numb of mine said there is one thing we are ahead of you in and that is, time.

Well, said I, God had a hand in that and you could not help yourself. The family is the foundation of social life and in England the children are children longer, "Their bringing min slow, but there is a Their bringing up is slow, but there is a great respect for parents that is not found in many other places. My father said to me when I was going to America, "Go. I lave you, you love me, but it does not do to have too many eggs in the basket."
It is soon settled in the life of a child what it shall do and then its education is pur-posely directed. As a people the English visit more, are more social and know each other better and become the better for it They are more careful of money also, though they say we are in love with the dollar. The mode of travel is not very converient, but the nation has been won derfully changed. They like games and live on doors largely, the way God intend d man should live part of his time Mr Bragswell spoke of the love of the people for the queen. He closed with the toast to the queen, "The queen, the most womanly queen and the most queenly woman" Ris remarks on city government were interesting for they brought out the fact that the lord mayor of Man-chester spent ~250,000 in o a year to set it tain handsomely for the city sunterest Mr Davis sing 'The Miner's Dream of Home," so well that he was encored

Rev. W L lenney.

Rev W L feaney spoke on "Educa-tion during the reign of Queen Victoria" The queen must have been saddened when she assumed the throne to have known that there were little opportunity for the education of the children of her realm They were then chained to wagons in a mine end forced to crawl through places like sewers. The aged queen now knows that not a child is at labor, under 12 years not employed unless educated. At that time a small per cent, of the people could read but today the queen reigns over an intelligent people. It e statesmen appeal not only to the classes but to the masses. There has been a wonderful changes in schools, they are today separated from the church While we have given some-thing to England on education we have carned much from her. We are indebted for the university settlement and must address to the lower class by East college acknowledge her in the institutional and fruy Alton McGowan the pipe cracking. ### John Emmott.

John Emmost spoke snortly ferred a little to our trouble with England when we gained our freedom and what John Bull must have said to the departing children. The story of Victoria, he said, holds many lessons not for England alone, notes many issense not negative action, but the whole human race. Long may sho rough, the mother queen of the world Maurice Phillips sang "The Silent March" and was compelled by applicate to sing "Heart of a Sailer". Thomas W Spices

Thomas W Sykes said that after so many noble and gracious words about the queen there was little for him to say One of the most noticeable thing of this ubilee is the sentence in the reports, "the God-fearing queen" She is the God-fearing queen of a God-fearing people Increase, multiply and inherit the earth seems to be what the English people have They have followed their Sunday school tending With reference to the linon Juck he said it floats for liberty and protection to every people. Wher-ever it has been planted the common and protection to every people. Wherever it has been planted the common people have been better. The excreises closed with the whole assembly singing a verse each of "America" and 'God Save the Queen'? The orchestra played 'Votora Maich" and as soon as the floor was cleared dancing began. Very attractively printed programs were distributed as souvenirs. other man were also arrested.
